Are you planning to attend the AMATYC Conference in Washington, DC, November 20 - 23? Does your college have funds in your current budget that could be used for your registration fees?

To pay your registration fees from your current budget, please send an email to Beverly Vance at amatyc@amatyc.org and put "Conference Registration Now" in the subject line. Beverly will send you necessary information so that you can pay registration for the conference NOW. The miniprogram which you will receive in late summer will include many details of the conference.

Minimize your conference costs by sharing your hotel room for the AMATYC Conference. Contact a colleague from another college and ask to room together! Or, send an email to Linda Kodama at Lkodama@hawaii.edu, AMATYC's Roommate Network Director, and ask her to help pair you with another conference attendee to room with. Your email should include your name, gender, email address, telephone number, room type (non-smoking or smoking), arrival and departure dates. While AMATYC does not guarantee a roommate pairing, this process has been successful in roommate pairings.

We look forward to seeing you in Washington!

Margie Hobbs, 2008 Conference Coordinator
